B. Making a Paragraph (4 points)

Instruction: The following sentences make ONE single paragraph. But currently, they are ordered in the wrong way. Reorder them so they make a single, coherent paragraph.

Rolihlahla means “troublemaker.” In his life, he made a lot of trouble, but it was trouble for people who did not do the right thing.

Mandela was born to the son of a chief, and he was also named after the son of a king.

Thus, I believe he is a great and courageous man who will remain in history.

Later, however, the people of South Africa elected him president, and he won a Nobel Peace Prize.

The South African leader Nelson Mandela changed history, but he suffered a lot.

He was the first in the family to attend school. His teacher gave him the English name Nelson, but his real name is Rolihlahla.

For example, he fought apartheid, which kept black and white people separate. He went to prison for many years for what he believed in.

(Hint: Copy and paste each of the seven parts in the right order)
